

Introduction for The Water Coolers' Keynote

The Water Coolers is a multi-award-winning comedy act made up of professional actors from New York City. For 15 years they've been performing at top events all over the world and today they're here to share some of their secrets to getting to great performance – in any job. And here's the fun part. They're not just going to talk to us. They're going to sing, dance, and make us laugh while they're at it. Maybe that's why E! Entertainment Television calls them, “the hottest ticket in town”! Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome The Water Coolers!
